Who doesn't love Les Mis music?! It's amazing, soul swelling, heart stirring wonder!! I would say it's an intermediate level book. That being said, a beginner could def. work through it and aspire to it, and a professional could play for the joy of it and master or play with dynamics, tempo etc.. If you play flute and love Les Miserables, you will definitely love love this!

Though I find the play itself rather depressing, I love the music of Les Mis. It is one of the few musicals where I can say I like most of the songs. However, be warned that the music may be best for advanced players...unless you know how to alter music. Myself, I can't play anything above a high D, so I often rewrite the music. You will need, if you are purist, to be able to play up to a high F (and possibly a high G...I thought I saw one in there somewhere). You will also need to know your flats well, including the less commonly used D flat and G flat. The songs that are included in this book: At the End of the Day Bring Him Home Castle on a Cloud Do You Hear the People Sing? Drink With Me Empty Chairs at Empty Tables A Heart Full of Love I Dreamed a Dream In My Life A Little Fall of Rain On My Own Stars Who Am I?

This is an affordable and accessible collection of songs from the musical, Les Miserables. Skimming quickly through the sheet music, I believe the highest note is an A flat in the third octave. I've only been playing the flute for a few weeksâalbeit with prior musical knowledge from playing a different instrumentâand could play large portions of certain songs that stayed within the first two octaves. The songs with a wider range are a nice challenge for the beginner flutist and an intermediate flutist could take what's written and really liven it up with more ornamentation. I've included photos of the song list and instrumentation since there is currently no "Look Inside" feature for this songbook. Recommended.

My 11 year old daughter plays the flute in her school's intermediate band and was very excited to learn new "Les Miserables" music.

I gave it to my daughter who plays the flute. She enjoyed playing the music.
